INTRODUCTION.

No more beautiful scenery can be found in the state than presents itself in the rugged landscape of the Oxford Hills, bordering the upper course of the Androscoggin. The surface of the three towns of which we treat, is beautifully varied by hills, lakes, rushing brooks, and the noble river which is to two of the group a bounding line, and for a short distance the dividing line.

This section of Maine was not entered by civilization, except for hunting and trapping, for many decades after the formation of permanent settlements along the coast, and on the lower courses of the great river highways. Gradually, as the native Indian tribes retreated or became weakened by the loss of numbers, the ambitious and progressive white men ventured farther up the river courses or penetrated the great unbroken wilderness; thus gradually but steadily pushing forward the pioneer line, and forcing backward the old order of native ownership of the soil and its common possession by a race which seemed to delight both in the liberties of peace, and the vicissitudes of war.

During the last twenty years of the eighteenth century many townships in Oxford county and the interior of Maine were granted or sold to men who sought them for the privileges — making for themselves and their families homes where they should be at peace, and enjoy the liberties so dearly and heroically bought. Settlement was made in Hartford soon after the close of the American Revolution, and in the towns farther north and west very soon following; this was the beginning of a period of remarkable growth and development, which we shall briefly follow through the succeeding pages.

HISTORY OF MEXICO

HOLMANSTOWN PROPRIETARY.

PROPRIETORS' RECORD.

Township No. 1, on the north side of the Androscoggin river, was purchased by Col. Jonathan Holman, of the Committee for the Sale of Eastern Lands, for himself and associates, A. D., 1789:—which originated by a subscription, dated at Sutton, Massachusetts, June 26, 1789, as follows:

We, the subscribers, agree to join in the purchase of the (ye) township or piece of land which Dr. Elijah Dix has obtained the refusal of until (tile) the fifth of July next, from the Court's Committee, according to their (its) proposal, dated the 20th inst, wherein they say they will sell to Messrs Holman and Waters, of Sutton, a tract of land lying on the north (side) of the Androscoggin River, and, we hereby agree and engage to pay for the quantity of land we severally and respectively annex (annix) to our names, provided we can have a title to the same, in the tract of land described in said proposals of the Court's Committee according to said proposals.

This tract of land was considered in the subscription for it, as divided into sixty (60) parts or rights, and the subscribers "annex to their names" are, two or more 60ths

(sixtieths). After the first subscription, there were alterations in the quantity of land to some of the subscribers, so that on (at) the first of Dec., 1787, when there was a general liquidation of all expenses and accounts up to that day, they stood as follows:

Jonathan Holman	7	Stephen Stockwell	1
Asa Waters	3	Solomon Holman	1
Andrew Eliot	4	Peter Holman	1
Asa Goodell	4	David Holman	1
John Holland	2	Samuel Bixby	1
Samuel Small	1	Samuel Goodell	1
Aaron Pierce	1	John Goodell	2
James Taylor	2	Joshua Goodell	2
Nathan Whitmore	2	Moody Severy	1
Gardner Waters	1	Elijah Waters	1
Amos Trask	1	Ebenr. Chaplin	1
Elijah Dix	13	Jonas Libby	1
John Jacobs	1	Stephen Prince	1
Jeremiah Robinson	2	John Pierce	1

The following note was added:

"N. B. Although said purchase is said to originate in the foregoing subscription, yet the matter was negotiated about 2 years before; and Col. Holman, Dea. Waters, and Capt. Eliot, spent considerable time and expense, in Aug. and Sept., 1787, in looking out a township, and picked on part of the same land now purchased and bespoke (?) it of the Committee for the sale of Eastern Lands; and as a committee from their Association, in Oct. 1787, went to the Committee to contract for it, but could not obtain." The old Association was dissolved and the above entered into.

"Col. Holman went to Boston and contracted for said tract of land July 2nd, 1789, and paid earnest towards it, for himself and others, £391 11s 9d in consolidated notes,—which contract and receipt of said earnest, as also the receipts for £1,340 6s 6d more paid (the) the 17th of Decr. recned as paid at the first of Novr., and £10 6s 3d premium(s) may be seen under hand of Leonard Jarvis, Esqr. which is on file."

At the first proprietors' meeting, held Sept. 13, 1789, Eben Chaplin was chosen moderator and clerk, 9s on a right was raised toward defraying the charges of laying out the township, and Jonathan Holman, Dea. Asa Waters, and Jeremiah Robinson were chosen a committee to perform the work. On Nov. 16, 1789, three rights were sold, one to each, Dr. Dix, Col. Holman and John Pierce.

The plan for the township was made by one Mr. Titcomb, but the lots were laid out by the committee mentioned before, of which we find Col. Holman and Mr. Robinson, in 1790, were directed to "continue to lay out the land in 100 acre lots as far as the land will admit." The township, which then contained the present towns of Dixfield and Mexico, was variously called "Township No. 1," 'Androscoggin Purchase No. 1," and "Holmanstown," until the incorporation of Dixfield, June 21, 1803, the remainder retaining the name of "Holmanstown" until incorporated the town of Mexico fifteen years later.

The meetings of the proprietors were generally held at Sutton, that being the home of the greater number of the body. Their meetings were continued until Nov. 13, 1809, when, their management being no longer needed, the proprietary was brought to an end.

EARLY SETTLEMENT

Who was the first man to enter the town of Mexico to make for himself and family a permanent home, or who was the first to actually locate within the bounds of the present town of Mexico we are now unable to state. Soon after the purchase of the township as shown in the preceding chapter, preparations for settling lots were made by the proprietors. It is very probable that the first to enter the territory of which we write located near Webb's river, and near the settlers who had taken up lots on the Dixfield side.

Luther Stockwell, son of Stephen Stockwell, one of the proprietors, took up the Stockwell lot, two miles from Dixfield village up the river; he later removed to within a mile of Dixfield. He was the father of Benj. W. one of the most influential men of the succeeding generation in Mexico.

Dea. Joseph Eustis, the father of several celebrated sons, came to this town in 1803 from Rutland, Vt. and located on the lot now occupied by Henry Harlow, one mile from Dixfield village. He was chosen the first town assessor. His son, Charles L., began trading in Dixfield as early as 1805, continuing twenty or more years. About 1831, in connection with a Mr. Clark, of Massachusetts, he purchased the northern half of the town of Eustis and erected a saw and grist mill there, from which the town took its name. Wm Tappan Eustis, at one time an eminent divine in Boston, was later president of the Vermont Central R. R. John M., another son of Joseph, remained on the home place for a while then moved to Dixfield. He was deputy-sheriff, custom-house officer, and filled other positions of honor and trust. Deacon Joseph E. died in Mexico, Dec. 20, 1847.

At Mexico village, or "Corner" as it was formerly called, Isaac Gleason was doubtless the pioneer. He erected his house just back of the site of Henry W. Park's store, and had also a large barn which was entered from two elevations as it stood on an embankment. He had two lots including the entire section upon which the "Corner" village now stands, extending nearly as far as the barber shop below the Goodwin cottages. Some time later Mr. Gleason erected a house nearer the river which stood until a new era was ushered into this locality about fifteen years ago, when activity was begun at Rumford Falls. Members of this family probably have filled more important town offices than has any other family in the history of the town. Elmer H. Gleason, a grandson of Isaac, is now a successful physician in Rumford Falls but resides in this village.

Peter Trask, son of Amos Trask, one of the proprietors and a pioneer at Dixfield, settled on the farm which is now the home of John R. Trask, near the Dixfield line.

Stephen Barnard, the first chosen selectman in town and one of the most prominent of the early inhabitants, settled one mile from Mexico village on Harlow Hill, on the place now occupied by Elizabeth Richards, a granddaughter. Nathan Knapp was another man to whom this town owes much for the active service rendered during the days of its infancy. He settled on the Harlow Hill road, but later sold his place to Aaron Lufkin, who moved here from Peru; the place is now occupied by the widow of Benj. W. Elliott. Aaron More was another settler on Harlow Hill, the date of his death is one of the very earliest found in the village cemetery.

Capt. Walter P. Carpenter, who was sent a delegate to the constitutional convention at Portland, in 1819, lived in the first house toward Dixfield from Deacon Eustis, on the farm now the home of Frank Leavitt. Captain Carpenter was a man of ability, he was, perhaps, the best educated man in the settlement, and was chosen to fill positions where skill and ingenuity were required.

Moses and John Kimball, brothers, located on the Roxbury road, three-fourths of a mile from Mexico village. Daniel Whitman (mon), the grandfather of Hosea B. Whitman, settled where G. H. Gleason now resides in the village. William Whitman, a brother to Daniel, was another settler here. Harvey Wait married Lucy, a daughter of Dea. Joseph Eustis, and built up a home on the place now known as the Isaac Bradeen place. Benj. Edmonds, who was chosen collector to succeed Daniel Porter, lived on the last farm in Mexico on the west side of Swift river.

Zebediah Mitchell who lived near the bank of Swift river, 3½ miles above the village, near Frye postoffice, was one of the earliest in this locality. James Mitchell, probably no connection of the first mentioned, settled in what became known as the "Back Kingdom," where he raised a large family, but this family is now nearly extinct in Mexico. Daniel Porter, John and Jacob Lufkin, Jedediah Farnum and several others were among the men who came to this town when its surface was an unbroken forest, except for here and there the narrow clearing of a pioneer who had entered the wilderness a little in advance of his neighbor.

Of the first traders and professional men we would mention Curtis P. Howe as probably the earliest to open a store for the sale of codfish, molasses and New England rum, the three necessary, or staple articles sought at the early "grocery." Henry W. Park, to whom we are indebted for much of the data given in this account, came to this village from Dixfield about 1845 since which time he has been one of the most prominent citizens, having been in trade much of that time, filling the office of selectman during the early years of the Civil war, enlisting volunteers and recruits for the service, and in other ways serving the locality.

Dr. Walker, whose residence occupied the site of Mr. Park's house, was probably the first educated physician. Dr. Arad Farwell, who was also prominent in town affairs, was another early practitioner. Dr. Tracy was located here before the breaking out of the war. Dr. Victor M. Abbott was a successful and prominent man in his profession. Dr. H. J. Binford and Dr. H. O. Hanlon are now in practice here.

Judge Chas. W. Walton, of the Supreme Court of the State, was the first to open a law office in Mexico, and in fact, about the only member of the bar who has opened an office here except N. G. Foster at Ridlonville. John R. Trask, who lives in Mexico, has an office in Dixfield.

Until fifteen years ago this town was, like many other towns of the state at the present time, devoted chiefly to her own interests, and connected in no way with the outside world. With the development of the water power at Rumford Falls and the remarkable growth of that village, Mexico has shared in its prosperity. Many new residences have been erected here during the past ten years, but its local industries have not become greatly multiplied. The population of the town in 1900 was but 816; it is now estimated at over 2000, showing a growth equalled only by the village of which this is virtually a part.

INCORPORATION

What was the government of "Holmanstown Plantation" after the incorporation of Dixfield, in 1803, until the incorporation of the town of Mexico, Feb. 13, 1818, we find no record. The final meeting of the proprietors seems to have been held in 1809, as we have shown earlier, but before the proprietary was dissolved it had little power over actual, legal settlers. Since the Act of Incorporation calls it "Holmanstown Plantation" we conclude that there had for a few years existed a plantation organization in the township.

ACT OF INCORPORATION

Commonwealth of Massachusetts. In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighteen. An act to establish the town of Mexico in the county of Oxford.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled and by the authority of the same, That the plantation heretofore called Holmanstown on the north side of Great Androscoggin river, in the County of Oxford, as contained within the following described boundaries, be and the same is hereby incorporated and established as a town by the name of Mexico, viz.: Eastwardly by Webb's river (the present bounds between Dixfield and said Holmanstown) Southerly by the river Great Amariscoggin, Westerly by the town of Rumford, Northerly by the townships or plantations numbered four and seven; and the inhabitants of the said town of Mexico are hereby vested with all the powers and privileges and shall be also subject to all the duties and requisitions of other corporate towns according to the constitution and laws of this commonwealth.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That any Justice of the peace for the County of Oxford, upon application therefor is hereby empowered to issue a warrant, directed to a freeholder inhabitant of the said town of Mexico requiring him to notify and warn the inhabitants thereof to meet at such convenient time and place as shall be appointed in the said warrant for the choice of such officers as towns are by law empowered and required to choose at their annual meetings.

In the House of Representatives Feby. 12th, 1818.

This bill having had three several readings passed to be enacted.

TIMOTHY BIGELOW, Speaker.

In Senate February 13th, 1818.

This bill having had two several readings passed to be enacted.

JOHN PHILLIPS, President.

February 13th, 1818.

Approved.

J. BROOKS, Governor.

A warrant calling the first town meeting of the freeholders of Mexico was issued by Francis Keyes, Esq., and directed to Nathan Knapp. The meeting was called at the dwelling house of Isaac Gleason, on Monday, March 20th, 1818, at which time and place the following town officers were balloted for and elected:

Joseph Eustis, moderator; Nathan Knapp, town clerk; Stephen Barnard, Isaac Gleason and Daniel Whitman, selectmen; Joseph Eustis, Harvey Wait and John Lufkin, assessors; Moses Kimball, town treasurer. Other necessary officers were chosen by hand vote, among the number being Aaron More and Wm. Whitmon, tythingmen.

On the sixth of April the freeholders of this new municipality cast their vote for a Governor and Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts, and for a Senator from their district. For Governor, ten (presumably all that were qualified to vote) cast votes, Hon. Benj. W. Crowningshield receiving eight, and Hon. John Brooks, two.

We find that on August 1, 1818, Benj. Edmonds was chosen collector in place of Daniel Porter, "absconded." Mr. Porter however could not have gone far on the "funds" in his possession, and we are told that he returned soon after.

The final vote of this town on the question of separating the District of Maine from Massachusetts and establishing it a free and independent state was cast July 26, 1819, when the vote was unanimous in favor of separation, 12 votes cast. Walter P. Carpenter was chosen a delegate to represent the town in the Constitutional Convention at Portland, which met soon after this to form the Constitution for the new State.

INDUSTRIAL ACCOUNT.

The earliest manufacturing in the town of Mexico was not an industry peculiar to that town but one common to most of the towns of the state. We have great respect for our fathers who erected their first rude cabins of unsawed and unhewn logs, and in which they made their first homes. We should remember, however, that these were not their permanent homes, but were erected to serve only until sufficient footing could be secured to erect more substantial homes, and the necessary lumber be prepared in the community. The latter need demanded the erection of saw mills, although the house frames were generally hewed by hand. The early mills were located on the natural water privileges on the larger brooks and small rivers. In testimony of the substantial homes erected during the years following the first few years of preparation, we now have, standing generally on hill-tops or high ground, many of the two-story, square houses which were heated by large open fire-places, one of which was generally provided for each room.

The first mill constructed in Mexico, so far as H. W. Park, the local historian, is able to determine, was built on Mitchell Brook, near the Roxbury line. This mill was run by an over-shot wheel and did good service for some years, but is now obliterated.

Another early mill was erected by Adam Knight on the west bank of Webb's river, about a mile above Dixfield village. This mill was later operated by Chas. L. Eustis, Humphrey Eaton and John M. Eustis.

On the site of the toothpick mill in Mexico, near Dixfield village, was at one time an axe manufactory, fitted up with trip-hammers, and occupied by Edmunds & Gardner, this occupied the ground floor while above was Dillingham & Burnham's cabinet shop. This building was burned and a new one erected by Hosea Austin and Stockbridge Eaton, who used it for manufacturing birch boxes of all kinds. The mill was later transformed into a toothpick factory.

The toothpick factory which is now operated as the estate of Charles Forster, O. H. Hersey, trustee, is located on the Mexico side of Webb's river, but is practically a Dixfield industry. The mill which occupied this site for many years, and which had been occupied for this business for sometime, was burned January 5, 1904. It was immediately rebuilt, and operations were begun in the new mill August 15, 1904. One hundred hands, about half of whom are women, are employed here. One hundred cases, each containing one hundred boxes of 1800 picks, are manufactured per day.

At the other extremity of the town, near the present Hale postoffice, was an early saw and grist mill. This was operated by Alvin Wesley and Blanchard Kimball, for a long period of years. During the "Flood of 1869," which is well remembered by some of our readers, everything that could be swept away was carried off and the place left looking almost as though it had never been the site of an active business industry. The site was soon purchased by F. C. Richards & Son, who erected a long and short lumber mill. They sold to Wm. Wallace Mason some years ago. A good business, including the manufacturing of novelties, is now carried on here by Mason Bros.

After selling the above mill F. C. Richards & Son built a steam mill two miles below the village. This is now operated by the son, Allen W. Richards, who manufactures long and short lumber, and spool stock.

About 1854 Chas. A. Scott erected a lumber mill, driven by an overshot wheel, on Austin Brook, in the "Back Kingdom." M. E. Tucker formerly erected and operated a steam mill, near the toll bridge, for manufacturing novelties and turning wooden goods. During the 70's O. P. Tucker and Frank Parsons erected a steam mill for manufacturing long lumber and axe-handle blocks, on the site of the present town house.

There may have been other mills in the town before the primeval forest was turned to lumber, but some of the logs were formerly floated down the river to other centers.

MILITARY MATTERS.

The military record of the town of Mexico is one of which her citizens are justly proud. The first national war after the settlement of the town was the second struggle with Great Britain for national freedom. Ebenezer Dorr and Harry Mitchell fought in the American Army during this war. Mr. Mitchell again joined the military ranks during the Aroostook War, and marched to Houlton. When marching through the streets of that town it is said that he was recognized by General Winfield Scott, with whom he fought in 1812. Joshua T. Hall was commissioned a captain in the Aroostook forces.

CIVIL WAR.

The service performed by the soldiers who served their country during the great civil struggle proved the military powers of a devoted people. We give below a list of the men credited to the town as recorded on the State Adjutant General's reports for the years 1861-1865. Of the number, Dr. Tracy was assistant surgeon, and Lieut. John A. Kidder served in the 1st, 23d, and 29th regiments. Henry W. Park did military duty in the city of Washington, being mustered into service for guard duty. Mr. Park was also an enlisting officer for the section.

CHURCH AFFAIRS

So far as we have learned, the early religious services attended by the residents of the town of Mexico were held either at Rumford, just across the Androscoggin, or at Dixfield village, just across Webb's river. The earliest society in town for the promotion of religious worship of which we have obtained account, was the Union Church Society, formed January 25th, 1890, when a number of citizens who had contributed toward the erection of a hall over the town hall, then being built, became organized for its management. A word should be said of the important part taken by the Ladies' Sewing Circle, which gave the first few hundred dollars toward the erection of the hall. It was dedicated to the use of all orthodox religious societies. The hall was first occupied by the Methodists, who maintained more or less regular preaching for several months. It was then occupied by the Free Baptists, Methodists and Congregationalists successively, the latter occupying it about eighteen months before dedicating their new house of worship on Main street. After the completion of this church edifice the hall was no longer needed for religious worship and was sold to the Junior Order of American Mechanics, by which order, and by the Patrons of Husbandry, it is now used. Formerly the U. O. G. C. and the A. O. U. W. held their meetings here.

The Congregational Church Society was organized October 25, 1902, in the Union Hall. The next year the beautiful new church was begun, and was dedicated to the worship of God in June, 1904, costing about $8,000. At the time of organization the society numbered but 22 members. Since that time, 64 others have united with them, and the work of the church has been greatly increased. Rev. Chas. L. Parker was the first pastor, remaining until quite recently. Rev. J. G. Fisher is the newly installed pastor. The church sees before it a large field and bright prospects of success and usefulness in its all-important work of winning souls for God.

SCHOOL ITEMS.

Hardly had the town of Mexico been launched on its career as an organized body when steps were made toward the formation of school districts, and the establishment of systematic education. About two months after the passing of the Incorporation Act the voters raised the sum of $60 for this purpose, and had the town divided into districts as follows: The sixth, seventh, and eighth ranges of the town formed the "North District," and the dividing line between the "Eastern" and "Western" districts extended from the Androscoggin river beginning between lots, seven and eight in range one. "School wards" were chosen; viz: Zebediah Mitchell warden of the North district, Nathan Knapp, of the Western district, and Joseph Eustis of the Eastern district.

On Dec. 29, 1818, the selectmen of this town appointed a committee to petition the legislature, with Dixfield, for permission to sell ministerial and school lands which were lolocated within the townships. These public lands which were laid out and given by the proprietors of "Township No. 1," were, according to the act incorporating the town of Dixfield, in 1813, divided between that town and what became the town of Mexico, in proportion to their several areas. From the sale of the school lands a sufficient sum was realized by the town to establish a fund of some value.

The improvement and development of the schools of this town has been similar to that of most country towns of the state during the same period. The voters have been liberal in their appropriations for educational support, and the advancement made has been such as to show the steady development of a system introducing modern methods of instruction, improved text books and a more efficient corps of teachers.

The first free High school was held in what is now known as the "Old School-house" in the village. The present modern High school building was erected in 1894, and is the home of both the High and Grammar schools. The building contains six large rooms, is provided with modern improvements and is centrally located for the students of the village section where is a very large percent of the population. Under Fred A. Robinson, with Helena O. Park, assistant, a High school course was laid out. This has been enlarged and improved by succeeding instructors. There is now a regular four years course of instruction which prepares its students for college work, or is intended to round out a practical education for those who are unable to enter institutions of higher educational advantages. The list of principals who have been employed in the High school, following Mr. Robinson, is Rufus H. Douglass, Vena L. Richards, George Miner, G. H. D. L'Amoureux, Irving R. Hawkes, and the present principal, J. W. Taylor who has remained here two years.

A new school building was completed last year, to be occupied by the Primary and Intermediate grades of the village schools. The building was erected at a cost of $5,000. The houses throughout the rural section of the town are either new or in very good repair, and the instruction given is generally such as to give general satisfaction where it is impossible for the scholars to enter the graded schools.

PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY.

Swift River Grange, Number 107, was reorganized May 10, 1904, the charter having been given an earlier organization here about 30 years ago. The reorganized Grange began with about twenty-five members, which number has now increased to eighty-eight. Ira T. Wing was the first Master, and has continued the second year. The other principal officers for the year 1905 are O. P. Smith, Overseer; R. L. Taylor Jr., Lec.; Mrs. Thos. L. Weeks, Chap.; Geo. H. Gleason, Treas.; and Grace E. Park, Sec. The regular meetings are held in the American Mechanics Hall, on Main street.

HISTORY OF PERU

EARLY SETTLEMENT

The nucleus of the town of Peru was a grant of two miles square, made by Massachusetts, to Merrill Knight, Daniel Lunt, William Brackett, and a Mr. Bradish of Falmouth. Subsequently the remainder of the township was granted or sold in tracts to E. Fox Lunt, Capt. Wm. Thompson, and a Mr. Peck. The first grant, and that later granted to Mr. Lunt well known as "Lunt's Upper and Lower Tracts," the other grants were known by the names of their grantees.

Merrill Knight is accorded the honor of having been the earliest to make a permanent home within the bounds of what is now Peru. He came from Falmouth, now Portland, in 1793, proceeding with his family through an unbroken forest to the banks of the Androscoggin. He erected a rude cabin northwest of Stony Brook, about one-half mile from the present Centre village, on the place now occupied by Mr. Guptil. It is said just as he was moving into the cabin from a hospitable neighbor's about two miles distant, when arriving with the last load of goods the cabin was discovered to be on fire and was soon in ashes. Disheartened Mr. Knight would have returned to Falmouth but the neighbor down the river again took his family to his own cabin where they remained until he could rebuild.

William Walker, who afterwards became the first plantation treasurer and for many years a leading spirit in the settlement, is said to have been the next settler, coming as early as 1802. He located where Henry Robinson now lives. Hezekiah, his son, remained on the home place. He was plantation and town clerk for a long term of years, and seems to have been a man of some wealth for in 1819 the town voted $3.00 to pay him interest for money loaned to pay the county tax. Wm. Walker, Jr. opened the first hotel in Peru in 1831, in the house now occupied by his son, Wm. H. Walker, one mile northwest from the Center. Here was also opened the earliest postoffice in town, kept in the hotel, and receiving mails weekly from Dixfield. George Walker, a brother to Wm. Sr., arrived in town soon after 1802 and settled the farm now occupied by D. W. Knight. Daniel Lunt, probably the son of the grantee, was among the earliest arrivals here. He cleared the farm on a part of which Manderville Hall now lives. His brother, James, came about the same time.

Osborn Trask and Brady Bailey, both of Falmouth, soon followed, the latter's lot being two and one-half miles from the Center, in what became known as the "Bailey Neighborhood" now the name is nearly extinct in town. Wm. Brackett, one of the proprietors of the first grant, or a son of the same name, located on the river road, above Peru Center. Jabez Delano located not far from Brady Bailey. Joshua Knox was an early settler in the southwestern part of the town; he had a large family, many of his sons settling around him, and the locality became known as the "Knox Neighborhood." Among his sons were Samuel, Seth, Eben and Obed.

Burgess Hill, in West Peru, was the home of several families of that name who came very early in the history of the town. Levi Ludden occupied the farm on which is now located West Peru and Dixfield railroal depot. James H. Withington, another prominent man in the early town, settled farther up the river on a farm within the territory set off to Rumford in 1895.

In the eastern part of the town Benjamin Wormell was one of the earliest to locate. It was in his house that the early Baptist church was organized, in 1818. Robinson Turner, an early mill operator, and Francis Wait both settled in this part of the town, Mr. Wait settling the place now occupied by Hiram E. Stillman. Wm. Kyle was living where Henry Chase now resides in March 1812.

Edsell Grover, an early collector in the plantation, Amos Knight, John Holland, Wm. Millett, David Dore, and Daniel Deshon were all settled here and filled office in the plantation prior to 1820. This was a prosperous period in the history of the locality, the land was new and fertile and the farmers were not competing with the products of extensive Western fields where large quantities could be produced at much less cost than in this broken section. New roads were being laid out each year, school and social privileges annually improved, and the general condition of affairs such as to make glad the hearts of the sturdy pioneers who had pressed forward to a land unknown, far from family and friends, to make for themselves and for their posterity homes that should give them liberty, prosperity and happiness, even if bought by many and long days of toil.

PLANTATION NUMBER ONE

The earliest records of the town of Peru begin with the organization of the township as Plantation No. 1, on March 23, 1812, when the scattering inhabitants assembled in answer to a warrant issued by Henry Rust, Esq., county treasurer of Oxford county. John Holland, Esq., was chosen moderator; Hezekiah Walker, plantation clerk, which office he held until the incorporation of the town of Peru, and filled the office of town clerk until March 9, 1829. Amos Knight, James Lunt, and William Kyle were chosen assessors. Adam Knight bid off the collection of taxes 10 cents on a dollar; evidently not an easy matter.

On April 6th, 1812, the second plantation meeting was called, place not designated in the records, but for the purpose of casting votes for governor for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and senators for this District. After choosing Merrill Knight, moderator, twenty votes were cast for Elbridge Gerry for governor, and the same number for William King, lieutenant governor. The number of votes cast for senators were the same for each, the following three men being voted for: Hon. Eleazer W. Ripley, Jonathan Page and Ebenezer Poor.

The second annual election of Plantation officers was conducted similar to the first. Adam Knight seems not to have found the collection of taxes any easier than he expected for we find he was given 12% for collection the second year. William Walker was the chosen treasurer, which is ths earliest election to this office that we find, and as no sums had been appropriated it is probable that neither a collector nor a treasurer was needed the first year.

A sum of $50 was then appropriated for the support of schools, and school districts laid out as follows: "The lower district to extend from the Jay (now Canton) line up to Daniel Lunt's house, and the upper district to extend from Daniel Lunt's house to the Rumford line, the western district to extend from Amos Knight's to the Sumner line.

In December, 1813, the inhabitants displayed a remarkable spirit of progress and ambition, several new roads were voted to be laid out, and a vote was made "to have a man's school at Mr. Merrill Knight's two months this winter and two months next summer in the eastern and western districts." Amos King, Hezekiah Walker and Robinson Turner were chosen a school committee. Doubtless the schools of this period required a stern master, who was able to administer the birch rod, as well as instruct his pupils in Arithmetic, reading and spelling.

In 1815, the sum of $500 was raised for highways, but nothing for schools, $30 however, seems to have been used for this purpose, it may have been a surplus left from the $50 voted for schools the preceding year.

The number of voters increased slowly, yet the community was increasing in population and improvements, and the settlers began to think of incorporation, and on May 20th, 1816, a vote was taken, but they were not ready to meet the expense of town government. At this time the school districts were united, and $150 raised to erect a suitable school house near the center of the town. After the completion of this house, in 1817, it was used instead of Mr. Knight's house, for holding the plantation meetings.

In July, 1819, this town cast 29 votes in favor of separating Maine from Massachusetts and establishing a separate State, none were against the measure. On April 3, 1820, 40 votes were thrown for Hon. Wm. King for the first governor of the new State.

Steps toward incorporation were now being made. In November, 1820, the assessors of the Plantation were instructed to see who were "in the town at the time of incoration." A complete list of the families then taken is recorded in the Plantation records, with the names of each, from which we have taken the following list.

This closes the records of PLANTATION NUMBER ONE, which records were later made valid by special act of Legislature, they having been defectively recorded.

ACT OF INCORPORATION

STATE OF MAINE.

In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty one.—

An act to establish the town of Peru in the County of Oxford.—

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled: That the Plantation heretofore called Number one, in the County of Oxford, as contained within the following described bounds, be and hereby is, with the inhabitants thereon, established as a town by the name of PERU and bounded as follows, to wit; West by the town of Rumford and Plantation number two, South by the town of Sumner, East by the town of Hartford and Jay (now Canton), and North by the Androscoggin River. And the said town of PERU is hereby vested with all the corporate powers and privileges and shall be subject to all the duties and requisitions of other corporate Towns, according to the Constitution and Laws of this State.

Section 2. Be it further enacted that Stephen Barnard Esq. of Mexico in said County, upon application therefor is hereby empowered to issue a warrant directed to a freeholder inhabitant of said town of PERU, requiring him to notify and warn the inhabitants of said town to meet at such convenient time and place as shall be appointed in said warrant, for the choice of such officers as towns are by law empowered and required to choose at their annual town meetings.

Approved by

Governor WILLIAM KING

February 5th, 1821.

Esq. Barnard issued his warrant to Wm. Brackett, calling the meeting April 4, 1821, at the School House. The following officers were selected to man this new government; Amos Knight, moderator of the meeting. Hezekiah Walker continued clerk; James Lunt, Josiah Curtis and Amos Knight, were chosen selectmen and assessors; Wm. Walker Jr., town treasurer; Wm. Brackett, collector (@4%) and constable; and all other necessary town officers, including Geo. Walker, James H. Withington and Abial Dilano, tythingmen.

At the second town meeting, April 16, 1821, Wm. Brackett was chosen town agent, $700 raised for repair of highways; $150 for support of schools, and a like sum to defray town charges.

In answer to an article in the town warrant the town voted to settle Enoch Jaques, as a town minister, and that he should have one half the Minister lands in the town and the use of all the Ministerial lands while he should continue to preach in town.

Soon after, on account of the scarcity of specie, a vote was made that town taxes might be paid in corn or grain. Six school districts were laid out in the fall of 1821, by James Lunt, Josiah Curtis, Edsell Grover and Nathan Walker,—committee.

For many years the bounds of Peru remained unchanged until Feb. 21, 1895, when that part of Peru west of a line drawn along the southeasterly lines of lots No. 29, 28, 27, 26, and 25, from Androscoggin river, were sold to Rumford for $2,000, at the same time Franklin Plantation (formerly plantation Number 2) was divided and a portion annexed to Peru.

Franklin Plantation was composed of Buxton, Milton Academy and Bartlett Grants, and was about 5 miles long and half as wide. The first clearing was made in 1816, and the first settlement in 1820. General settlement was made about ten years later, and the plantation organized in 1841. The population in 1870 was 178, and in 1880, 159.

TOWN OFFICIALS

CLERKS.

We have endeavored to compile a complete list of the clerks, treasurers and selectmen since 1850 but one of the books of the Town Clerk with records from 1850 to 1875 is not to be found, hence our omission for those years. INDUSTRIES

The industrial life of Peru has been varied by the rise and fall of several lumber and grist mills, and by the steady development of her fertile though hilly farm lands. The enormous old-growth forest, which had stood for so long and served as the common home of the native Red Men, as soon as the whites entered the land to make homes for themselves fell a pray to the incessant chuck of their strong axes. The first openings were soon connected by narrow cuttings which served for highways, while here and there, along the noisy brooks were made larger openings where the trees, sometimes sawing boards three and four feet wide, had been cut down for timber and for the mills. The streams served a three-fold purpose; the falls provided the power to drive the saws, the body of water formed by the stream being dammed to make the power available was used for a "log-yard" while the flowing waters brought saw logs to the mill.

The earliest mill at Peru Center was built by James Lunt about the time of the incorporation of the town. This was both a saw and grist mill. The sawing was done by an up-and-down saw. Mr. Lunt afterward sold the property to a Mr. Wagg, who operated it for a time and sold to a Mr. Johnson. About 1840, Robinson Turner, father of Hollis Turner, to whom we are indebted for much of this information, purchased the old mill, rebuilt it and put in Burr stones for a wheat mill. This was, it is said, the first wheat mill in the county. Mr. Turner operated the mills until about 1864, when he sold to a Mr. Silver. It then changed hands several times, was again built over, this time by Gustavus Hayford, of Canton, and has been owned and operated by Howard Turner about 10 years. It is now chiefly a custom sawing mill.

The early town records mention constructing a bridge at "Curtis' mill," but we are unable to give its location. There was an early saw mill at the outlet of Worthley Pond, which was built by Wm. K. Ripley. The mill is now obliterated.

The mill below the bridge at East Peru was an early corn or grist mill, built by Daniel Deshon. It was closed for many years, or was occupied as a wheelwright shop until sold to Thomas Farrar who changed it to a mill for sawing spool stock and dowels. Above the bridge is another mill containing a shingle machine and circular board saw. Job House turned bowls here around 1840. It has been in the hands of several operators; E. M. Howard being the present owner.

At West Peru a saw mill was built about 1857, by Demas Bishop and John Jenne. Mr. Bishop operated the saw, clapboard and shingle mills, and in summer threshed his neighbors' grain at the mill. Mr. Jenne was a cabinet maker and occupied the second story of the mill. He also made window blinds and sashes. Mr. Jenne came to this town in 1822 from Hallowell, walking with three brothers, Joseph, Isaac and Seth, himself being but ten years old at that time. Mr. Jenne sold his interest in the mill to Mr. Bishop, and Mr. Bishop later sold to Tristram Washburn. A. C. Small was the next owner. He was also a grocer at the west village, and the donator of the Free Baptist church. The mill was sold by his executors to E. G. Austin, and was operated by E. G. Austin & Son, until just prior to its being burned last spring. J. A. Putnam, who bought a half interest in the property before the fire is now the sole owner, and is erecting a new mill on the old site. The new mill will be considerably smaller than its predecessor and will be occupied for manufacturing long and short lumber.

Joseph A. Arnold moved to West Peru from Rumford about twenty years ago and purchased the grist mill of Ira Parlin. Mr. Arnold operated the mill until his death last November, since which time it has been operated by his sons under the name of Arnold Bros.

Hall Bros.' rake manufacturing establishment, located about three-fourths of a mile from West Peru station on the river road has been established for several years, shipments of several cars of hand rakes being made annually.

At Dickvale, John C. Wyman is operating the only saw mill now standing. One was burned here a year ago which was operated by Mr. J. A. Putnam, who has now built the new mill at the west village. At one time Clark, Skillins & Co. sawed spool bars which they shipped to Scotland. W. H. Ames & Co., of Portland, have recently operated a steam mill in this locality.

But now lumbering in this town has become a thing of the past. The farms are the chief sources of income, but they well repay earnest toil when scientifically and well performed.

MILITARY ACCOUNT

It is said that Major Wm. Brackett, who was one of the pioneers in this town, had served in the war for American Independence. We know of no others who settled in Peru, who fought in the Revolution. Mr. Brackett lived in this town for many years; he returned to Westbrook in 1845, at the advanced age of 93.

Three veterans of the War of 1812-14 lie buried in Peru: John Gilcrease, John Tufts, who fought at Plattsburg, and Thomas Lord, whose home was in that part of Peru formerly belonging to Franklin Plantation.

The town was well represented in the War of the Rebellion, and the records made by her noble sons are such as to do honor to this liberty-loving people. Demeritt Post, No. 147 is the local order of the few remaining veterans of this war, but most of them have answered the last roll-call on earth. The following is a list of the men credited to the town by the Adjutant General of Maine.

Nor was this town without representation in the late Spanish-American war. Orlando A. Bisbee, a member of one of Peru's respected families served in this war, but enlisted from the State of Massachusetts. Since the war closed he has returned to this town and is now a resident of Dickvale.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS.

What was the very earliest organized religious body in town we are unable to say. Certain it is that the settlers generally were a devoted and church-going people, did not neglect to assemble themselves together on the Lord's Day, nor to provide preaching of the doctrine most to their liking. The long forenoon sermon was followed by an equally long afternoon service, after which some of the sturdy settlers must return eight or ten miles with their families on ox-sleds. These services were held in private homes, or, later, in the "village school house," until a suitable house could be erected and dedicated solely to the worship of God.

The earliest meeting house erected in town was built by the METHODISTS and dedicated in 1838. This is the same building now used by the Baptists at Peru Center, it having remained in posession of the Methodists until about eight years ago when it was sold to the present occupants. The exact date of organizing the Methodist Episcopal Society we are unable to give, but believe it was previous to 1818, when the Baptist society was formed. In the town records for the first year after organization we find the town follows the old custom of calling a minister, and voting him a salary and ministerial lands. The call was extended to Enoch Jaques, who seems to have accepted the call, and became an esteemed and valued pastor and citizen. This was a strong society for many years but has now become nearly extinct, caused by deaths and removals from town.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH was organized Sept. 19, 1818, at the house of Bro. Benjamin Wormell, at East Peru, the following nine members forming the body: Jabez Delano and Grace, his wife; Brady Bailey and Nancy, his wife; Benj Wormell and Annie, his wife; Robinson Turner, Gilbert Hathaway, and Sampson Freeman. At first services were held in the Brady schoolhouse and other schoolhouses in town, services being conducted by supply pastors or lay preachers. Later they began worshipping in the church they now own, alternating with the Methodists and Free Baptists. Gradually the Methodists became weakened and finally discontinued their services, and the Free Baptists erected a church at the west village, so, in 1894, the Baptists purchased the sacred structure, repaired and extensively remodeled it, and soon began something like regular worship; Revs. Jackson, Palmer, Haines and others filling the pulpit. Of the earlier preachers we would mention Rev. Elias Nelson who united with the church in 1830, and filled the pulpit part of the time for three years. Rev. S. S. Wyman became the first settled pastor, in 1843. He settled in the town and remained until his death, serving the society long and well. Rev. W. H. S. Ventres came from Canton in 1885 and remained pastor two years. Preaching is now generally had from the pastors of the Canton Baptist church. Some Cobb Divinity students are employed. Rev. E. A. Davis, State Missionary from Lewiston, now fills the pulpit occasionally. A Sunday School is maintained most of the time. The society now numbers but twenty. Were the earnest zeal of the fathers continued by the present generations the old church would yet be the scene of great religious interest and activity; let us hope the time will speedily come when this may be realized and the entire community seek God's house on His Holy Day.

The Second Advent Church of Peru, located at Dickvale, was organized in 1872 with the following members:

Daniel Abbott, Sally Abbott, Fidelia Abbott, A. A. Abbott, Salmon Andrews, Aaron Andrews, Mary Andrews, Eleazer Bodwell, Mrs. E. Bodwell, daughter, F. Childs, Hanes Eastman, Wheeler Tracy, Mary Tracy, Willis Gowell, Granville Tracy, Eliza Tracy, Lorenzo McAlister, Abbie McAlister, Eliza McAlister, Mattie McAlister, Lewis Putnam, Almon Andrews, M. J. Andrews, Eben Hopkins, Cynthia Hopkins, Edward Johnson, S. M. Locke, E. T. Locke, Carrie Locke.

From 1872 to 1905, Rev. A. A. Abbott has been the faithful pastor of this church. During his absence from 1894 to 1899, Rev. L. C. Putnam supplied. It was eleven years after the organization of the church that their building was erected, those in charge being Rev. A. A. Abbott, L. C. Putnam, Granville Child and John A. Putnam. The first meeting held in this structure was on July 4, 1893. The following fall the house was dedicated, the dedicatory sermon being preached by Kate Taylor. There are no regular services held in this church at the present time. The present membership is twenty. No account of this church would be complete without a brief reference to Rev. Mr. Abbott, its faithful pastor, now 78 years of age. During his long and active life he has preached 1300 funeral sermons, married more than 400 couples, and the number baptised by his hands is so large that he has long since forgotten the exact figures. Few men can point to a record more replete with activity and service than his.

EDUCATION

Impelled by the thought of advancement, the pioneers of Maine were not blind to the demand for education. Hardly had they become located in the wilderness before some means was sought to offer their boys and girls the meagre instruction which was within their power to offer. It is probable that private schools, or schools supported by subscription, with the instructor "boarding round", were sustained prior to the organization of the Plantation in 1812. Certain it is that very soon after its organization the voters in the plantation provided systematic instruction, for in 1813 $50 was raised for the support of schools, and the "Lower", "Upper", and "Western" districts laid out by a specially appointed committee. The following year a similar amount was appropriated for this purpose, but in 1815 nothing was raised for schools. Schools were had, however, and it is to be presumed that suitable "masters" could not be found to teach the full time the preceding years. Three "school wards" were chosen each year to attend to the expenditure of the school funds. In 1816 a school house was erected at the "Senter" and the three districts were consolidated, those who could not attend the school here were to receive "some consideration". Robinson Turner, James Lunt, Adam Knight, Hezekiah Walker and Wm. Brackett were chosen a committee to superintend building the house. We find it completed the next year, when it was occupied for holding a plantation meeting; this stood on what became known as Town House Hill, the house having been used for a town house for many years after the incorporation of Peru.

But the plan of a single school district was not satisfactory to many who lived at a distance with no means of travel but to walk. Several attempts were made to re-district the township, which was done in 1819, when four districts were established, named the Upper, Lower, Center, and Back districts.

From this beginning an efficient and practical school system has developed, new districts were laid out from time to time as the demands of the pupils required. After the passage of the law for town ownership and management of schools, many of the districts having but few scholars, some of them were consolidated, but this time transportation was provided for those at a distance from the school.

Union Hall was erected at West Peru, in 1860, and is a substantial two-story brick structure containing a public hall, and a school room. A new school building and town hall was erected in 1896-7 at Peru village, and another school building has just been completed in what is now called the Union School District. This will be occupied in the fall by the High school to be re-established at that time. Sessions of High school have been held in town; in 1880 we find there were High schools at both the West village and at the Center, but these have been discontinued for a few years.

A graded system has been recently established at the Center school, the Grammar school graduating its first class this season. The class was a large one, and held its exercises on Independence Day. The public schools of this town have helped many boys and girls who have later reached positions of prominence and trust, whom Peru is proud to call her sons and daughters, to lay the foundation for an education which has enabled them to become leaders among men.

PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY.

Rockemeka Grange, Number 109, was organized at Peru, in the Baptist church, Feb. 19, 1875, with 30 charter members. The order was soon removed to West Peru, but later returned to Peru, and has since removed to the West Village, then back again April 23, 1898, since which time its meetings have been held at the Center Village. The meetings were for a time held in the Town Hall, until the new Grange Hall was dedicated on June 10, 1904. This hall was erected at a cost of over $2,000. It is well furnished. There are now 103 members. Meetings are held weekly, on Saturday evening. The present principal officers are O. C. Hopkins, Master; Thos. J. Rolls, Overseer; Mrs. A. B. Walker, Lecturer; Mrs. C. T. Gammon, Secretary; G. W. Knight, Treasurer; and Mrs. Thos. Farrar, Chaplain.

The following is a complete list of past Masters of this Grange, with their dates of service: Wm. Greene, 1875; Merrill Knight, '76; Wm. H. Walker, '77; A. B. Walker, '78-'80; Wm. H. Walker, '81-'82; A. B. Walker, '83-'85; Frank P. Putnam, '86-'87; A. B. Walker '88; D. W. Walker, '89; Hollis Turner, '90; Roscoe S. Tracy, '91; C. A. Hall, '92-'93; Manderville Hall, '94-'96; A. B. Walker, '97-'98; Loren E. Irish, '99-'00; Dana W. Goding, '01; J. E. Conant, '02-'03; A. B. Walker, '04; O. C. Hopkins, '05.

West Peru Grange, Number 391, was organized with 69 charter members, on May 10, 1902. Its membership has increased to 156, in three years, and the work done by the order shows much enterprise. It now owns the brick hall at the West Village, where its meetings are held on the first and third Saturdays of each month. Manderville Hall was chosen first Master; Chas. A. Hall, Secretary; C. M. Small, Overseer; and Mrs. F. L. Phinney, Lecturer. Chas. A. Hall became the second Master, and was in turn succeeded by John E. Goggin, now in office. Manderville Hall is the present Lecturer and Marcia V. Hall is Secretary.

HISTORY OF HARTFORD

BUTTERFIELD TOWNSHIP, NOS. 6 AND 7.

FIRST PETITION FOR GRANT OF LAND.

To the Honorable, the Senate, and the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Common Wealth of the Massachusetts Bay, In general Court assembled.

The Petition of Samuel Butterfield of Dunstable, for himself, and in behalf of several persons here after named. For a tract of land now the property of this State, lying and being in the County of Cumberland and joining (has) Northerly Lands Petitioned for by Abijah Buck and others, and Northeasterly of No. Four (Paris). To the value of six miles square or a sufficient number of Acres for a town to be laid out as agreeable to your Petitioners as maybe—upon such consideration or for such a sum as you in your Wisdom shall think best for the good of this State, your Petitioners Being Desirous of Making a Settlement on Said Land if granted, which not only would be a Benefit to them-Selves but to the Community at Large and the Wilderness become a fruitful field your Petitioners relying on your Wisdom, care and Tenderness Pray the Above Said Lands may be granted as you in your Great Wisdom may Direct.

Your Petitioners as in Duty Bound Shall Ever Pray. January the 24th 1781. (Signed)

SAMUEL BUTTERFIELD,
ALEXANDER PAYSON,
MARK HOBBS and others.

The above petition seems to have been for Township No. 6 which formed the southern half of the double township of Butterfield, now the towns of Hartford and Sumner. We are unable to say what later petition was made but both Numbers 6 and 7 were granted these petitioners not long after.

The earliest meeting of the Proprietors was held May 1, 1788, at the house of Ebenezer Bancroft in Dunstable. Mr. Bancroft was chosen proprietary clerk. Three agents were then chosen to act in behalf of the proprietors, selection of Mr. Bancroft, Samuel Butterfield and Peter Coburn being made, they being instructed to settle with those settlers who were entitled to a hundred acres of land in Buttefield or No. 6 and No. 7, as formerly granted by the General Court. Sept. 22, 1791 the proprietors voted to accept the plan and report of this committee and to enter the same on the proprietors' records. Allotments were by them made, and recorded, to the following men who had already settled in the township: "In the West town to James Keen, Hezekiah Stutson, John Briggs, Isaac Sturtivant, Benj. Haild, John Crokit, Moses Buck, Oliver Cummings, Jun'r, John Bisbee, John Fletcher, Levi Crocket, Simeon Basset, John Keen, Moses Bisbee, Joshua Ford, and Simeon Parlin."

"In the East town to Asa Robinson, Wm. Heaford, Increase Roberson, Mesbek Keen, Joseph Roberson, Wm. Tucker, Isaac Bonney, John Bonney, Charles Bisbee, David Oldham, Charles Ford, Elisha Bisbee, Noah Bozworth."

It will be seen from the above that Butterfield Township, which was composed of township No. 6 in the south and township No. 7 in the north, was early divided into two sections by a line running north and south or at nearly right angles to the old line. This was nearly parallel to the general course of the river which was originally the dividing line between Hartford and Sumner. These were then distinctively called the East Town and the West Town, later East and West Butterfield plantations.

Several petitions were made to the General Court of Massachusetts by the East and West townships. The first petition was made by West Butterfield May 1, 1793, which was followed by one from the Settlers in the Eastern plantation dated Aug. 22, the same year, and was signed by Increase Robinson, Wm. Hayford, Isaac Bonney, Wm. Soule and Charles Foord. Both seem to have been rejected, as were also a second from the West plantation issued the following December; a second from East Butterfield dated December 21st, 1795 and signed by forty taxpayers (the name desired was "Lisbon if it may be and if not Hartford"); a third petition from West Butterfield in Jan. 1796 which was signed by 29 taxpayers; a fourth petition, dated December 18, 1797, and asking that the river be the dividing line; a petition for the incorporation of both plantations as one town, dated Dec. 19, 1797; and a third petition by East Butterfield, April 7th, 1798, with the river as the dividing line. The range line first adopted as the division between the townships gave the Eastern township 8365 acres more than its Sister town. With the river the dividing line the difference in area was reduced to 4475 acres. Very soon after the last mentioned petition was made a joint petition was sent by the two plantations for their separate incorporation. This met the approved of the General Court and both towns, the Eastern taking the name of Hartford, and the western the name of Sumner, were duly incorporated.

SETTLEMENT.

The first settlements were made within the bounds of old Butterfield plantation under an act passed by the Massachusetts legislature giving 100 acres of land to any who would clear sixteen acres back from the rivers or navigable waters within four years. This offer continued until 1784, prior to which date there seem to have been no less than thirteen claims taken up in the East township by the men whose names are given in the last chapter. These men located wherever they chose since no general survey was made in this vicinity until 1785 when John Jordine surveyed for the State the present town of Buckfield, and the southern half of the present Hartford and Sumner, then called "No 6".

The following year "No 7" was surveyed by Samuel Titcomb for the State. On June 22, of that year (1786), a Deed of Agreement was made between the State's committee and Joel Parkhurst of Dunstable, Mass., and his associates, and on Nov. 22, 1787 this deed, which conveyed townships No. 6 and No. 7 upon payment of the price specified, was given to Ebenezer Bancroft of Dunstable, and his associates, 43 in number; to whom most of the land titles in these towns may be traced.

According to the "Sumner Centennial" history twenty one settlers had taken up claims and made permanent improvements within the limits of the old plantation. Of this number, Benj. Heald, Oliver Cummings and Increase Robinson became proprietors.

Our limited space does not permit us to make extended comment concerning the pioneers of this town. We give the following as the most important facts concerning these noble men. Of the thirteen mentioned in the preceding chapter who received deeds of 100 acres each as settlement rights, Deacon Increase Robinson erected and operated mills at what is now East Sumner, the mills remaining in the town of Hartford until the dividing line between the towns was changed. A separate section of land around Whitney pond was surveyed by Noah Bosworth, one of these men, for two Thompson Cousins, and two other men, all of Middleboro, Mass. This was known as Thompson's Grant and became part of North Hartford except a small portion now in Canton. The first settlers in this part of the town were four Thompsons, two sons of each of the grantees. These men were known as Dea. Oakes, Dea. Ira, Esq. John, and Esq. Cyrus Thompson. The first settled on the farm formerly occupied by Mrs. Alvira Mendall. Oakes Jr. remained on the place after his father. Dea. Ira settled on the hill just west of Whitney Pond, on the "Ellis farm," he afterwards exchanged farms with Perez Ellis of Livermore. Esq. John settled on the John Manwell place. He afterwards exchanged farms with Uzza Thompson of Rumford. Esq. Cyrus settled the farm afterwards used as a townfarm, where the buildings were burned in 1883. He married Rebecca Robinson, the first female white child born in Sumner. They had four children. Uzza Thompson who removed from Rumford as we have stated, married Abigail Elliott, who had seven children. Perez Ellis, who came from No. Livermore had seven sons and six daughters.

Lemuel Thomas settled north of the Ellis farm, near the Canton line. Ebenezer Washburn located on the farm next west of Wm. Thomas, beginning life here in a log cabin. Joseph Soule, of Middleboro, located next south west of Mr. Washburn, where he was succeeded by Ezra, his son, who became a lieutenant in the Civil War. Wm. Thomas settled an adjoining lot. Capt. Nathaniel Thomas made his home on the farm now occupied by Mr. York. Elisha Thomas purchased an adjoining lot and became a black- and gunsmith. He married Betsey, daughter of Ebenezer Washburn, by whom he had twelve children. Zeri Hayford settled in this locality, but soon sold to Thomas Allen and moved to Canton (then Jay). Other early arrivals in North Hartford were Wm. Sparrow, Andrew Barrows, Moses Fletcher, Josiah Tilson, Simeon Brown, Daniel Thomas, Moses Sampson, Beza Soule, Lemuel Jewett, Osborn Trask and Woodward Allen.

In the southern part of the town Wm. Baird planted a field of corn in 1788 from which he harvested a crop which he took back in his pockets, the bears, deer and other animals having preceded him. Soon after this he became a permanent settler. Edmund Irish then spelled Yrish who has had the reputation of being the earliest permanent settler built a log cabin on the farm now occupied by Decatur Irish, his grandson, to which he moved his family in 1788. Richard Dearborn, David Warren, and James Ricker, each settled early in southern Hartford, on farms now occupied by their respective grandsons. Daniel Hutchinson was an early Baptist Preacher. He and Mr. Warren were each sent to represent this town in the Massachusetts Legislature. Barnabus Howard, Zenas Mitchell, Richard Young, Stephen Irish, Christian Christianson and Daniel Briggs were all early arrivals in this section.

Edward Blake located in the south east part of the town, the Larrabees in the eastern part. John Bartlett purchased 90 acres here in 1793 and moved in with his wife and seven children. Benj. Thomas settled where T. B. W. Stetson now lives. Andrew and Jeremiah Russell were here early. Ephraim Tinkham, Nathaniel Fogg, and the Bryants, Guerneys and Starbirds made their clearings in the central part of the town.

Other early names in the history of this town, men who played a leading part in its early development are Malachi

Bartlett, Freeman Ellis, Wm. Soule, Arvida Hayford, John Pumpilly, John Elwell, Joseph Chandler, John Ames, David Parsons, Samuel Ellery, Andrew Cushman, Nathaniel Bartlett, Jonathan Bozworth, Borgillai Hollis, Richard Hinds, John Briggs, Benj. Heath, John Griffith, Sampson Reed, Meader Blake, and Anson Soule.

Dr. Smith was probably the earliest practicing physician. Others have been Dr. Washington Bragg, and Dr. Lemuel H. Maxim, who died two or three years ago, There is now no resident physician in town.

Legal business transactions have generally been done by local Justices of the peace. We believe the town has had no practicing representative of the school of law.

ISAAC STURTEVANT J'ts Ps

The first town meeting of the inhabitants of Hartford was held accordingly, at Wm. Hayford's residence on August 13, 1798. Mr. Hayford was chosen to act as Moderator; Malachi Bartlett, clerk; which office he continued to fill until 1802, when Arvida Hayford was chosen his successor. Freeman Ellis, William Soule and Andrew Russell were chosen selectmen, and then made assessors. Malachi Bartlett was also chosen town treasurer. Arvida Hayford became collector, and was elected a constable, John Pumpilly and John Elwell were selected to act as fence viewers, and Joseph Chandler, John Elwell, John Ames, and Wm. Soule, as road surveyors. David Parsons and Beza Soule were chosen (tideingmen) tythingmen. Samuel Ellery and John Bartlett became hogreves, and Andrew (Chusman) Cushman a surveyor of lumber. The meeting was then "Desolved."

On January 5th, 1799, a warrant was issued by the selectmen directing Arvida Hayford, constable, to give notice to John Parlen, with his wife and children, having taken up their residence in the town without the town's consent, to "depart the limits thereof within fifteen days."

On July 26, 1819, a final vote of the town was taken on the question of establishing an independent State. Of the 66 votes cast, just two-thirds were in favor of the measure. Joseph Tobin was sent a delegate to represent the town in the Convention at Portland.

CIVIL WAR SOLDIERS.

The town of Hartford has been well represented in the great national conflicts at arms. Many of the men who settled on her soil prior to 1800 were veterans of the Revolutionary War in which they displayed the spirit of Puritan valor and love of liberty, which lead their ancestors to establish their homes on the New England shore. Nor have succeeding generations been without the zeal of their ancestors. In the War of 1812, and in the great Civil Strife, were enlisted many of the men of Hartford who, by their noble records, she is proud to claim as her sons.

The following is a list of enlisted soldiers in the Civil War, as recorded by the Adjutant General of Maine, from 1861 to 1865:

SOLDIERS OF HARTFORD.

Albert Allen, Albert L. Adderton, Chas. F. Allen, Edwin Andrews, Otis Bosworth, Lieut. Calvin B. Benson, Isaac R. Bubier, John M. Benson, Lucius C. Bartlett, Valorus A. Bearce, Rufus Bryant, Leander Bartlett, Leonard Bosworth, Jr., Jas. M. Cobb, Benj. M. Corliss, Levi C. Coburn; Lysander DeCoster, Benj. M. Callis, Albert A. Ellis, Christopher C. Fletcher, Elbridge H. Foster, Jas. E. Fogg, Hanson S. Field, Chas. A. Green, Stillman Guerney, Michael Guerney, Stephen C. Huntley, Andrew J. Hodgdon, Wm. M. Hall, Burnham Holmes, Wm. R. Hasey, Orman E. Hines, W. H. Irish, Florian Jordan, W. F. Jordan, Chas. Kearney, Adelbert Kidder, Chas. W. Mendall, Francis Leavitt, Caleb Mendall, Zepheniah H. Neal, Dennis Ricker, Jr., Justin H. Richardson, Wm. H. H. Richardson, Jas. M. Ricker, Dennis Ricker, Lucius Robinson, Ellis S. Russell, Jeremiah Russell, Ezra Soule, Jas. E. Starbird, Ephraim T. Stetson, E. P. Stetson, Sedate M. Turner, W. J. Tyler, John W. Thompson, Geo. B. Thompson, Jonathan Williams, John G. Wood, Geo. H. Wood, Lucius Young, Jos. H. Young, Delance Young, Henry Young and Edward L. Stephens.

LOCAL INDUSTRIES

The earliest mill within the bounds of Hartford was erected at the Center village just above the railroad bridge where a part of the old dam may now be seen. A second mill was built by Winslow Hall below the present railroad station. This was a saw and grist-mill, and the village which sprung up became known as "Hall's Mills" until about 1838, when it was changed to Hartford Center. Wm. Hall was also postmaster when mails came but once a week. Hinds & Woodsum bought the mill of Mr. Hall and Harvey Bartlett. Later the mill run down and Robinson & Corliss purchased the site, erected a new mill with a mill for manufacturing excelsior which was shipped to Mechanic Falls, in 1865, for the first manufacture of paper. James Irish bought out Mr. Corliss and operated the mills with Mr. Robinson until the railroad was extended to Hartford from Buckfield in 1868 and this mill privilege bought for the site to bridge Bungamuck stream. The railroad reached Canton Jan. 1, 1870, but was not in shape to do business. Under F. O. J. Smith's management Hartford enjoyed few railroad conveniences. Mr. Smith died in 1876, after which Ex. Gov. Washburn, Otis Hayford, of Canton; N. L. Marshall, of West Paris; S. C. Andrews, of Buckfield; and James Irish, of Hartford took hold of the project and completed it in 1878. Many interesting stories are told of this road under its early management. The road-bed was poorly graded and the run from the lower end of the line to Canton was such a task that the train gained for itself the name "the try-weekly"; the theory being that after the run down river it was a week's "try" to return.

Another dam was built about one mile below those mentioned upon which James Irish remembers a clover mill. It is probable that there were other motor mills in town during the early days.

The only saw mills now in town are steam mills. One of these is operated by E. C. Irish, on the north side of Bungamuck Pond, but this is a portable mill. The other steam mill is operated by Mr. Littlefield.

The corn canning establishment of the Minot Packing Co., in the southeastern part of the town, was built by Gerry & Thurston about 1892, since which time it has been operated each season. A large business is done canning sweet corn which is raised by the farmers of the surrounding section.

The business done by the Hartford Cold Spring Co., now the Hartford Mineral Spring Co., has been one of considerable importance during the last twelve or fifteen years. This spring is located on the Daniel Briggs farm. Shipments were first made of the clear spring water, the analysis of which shows very superior quality. This is now used in making gingerale, soda water, etc., which is shipped in large quantities.

But the chief industries in town at the present time are farming and orcharding. The surface is generally broken but the hills are arable and fertile, and the soil strong and productive. Among the proprietors of the plantation was one whose name has become a household word throughout New England; Col. Laommi Baldwin, the originator of the famous apple which bears his name. There are many large and excellent apple orchards in Hartford and the returns realized from the sale of their product during the productive seasons is gratifying indeed to the orchardists and farmers of the town.

CHURCH AFFAIRS

A Baptist Church was organized very early in the history of this town by Elder Daniel Hutchinson, who lived in the southern part of the town. This church was an active Christian force for many years, sharing with the Methodists and Universalists the love and labors of a devoted people; but now the Methodist society is the only one holding regular services. Rev. E. S. Cudworth was, Rev. G. J. Palmer is pastor.

NOTE—We have endeavored for some time to obtain data on the churches, but have failed. If it finally is sent to us in time, it will be inserted at the back of the book.

Atheneum Hall, which was erected at the Center, with the town hall in 1871 by the Good Templars' Lodge, has been used for religious worship by various denominations, and sometimes a Sunday School is maintained here.

HARTFORD SCHOOLS

One of the earliest matters attended to by the newly organized towns, was to make provision for establishing and maintaining a suitable school system for the promotion of education. A special committee was appointed to district the township, and their report is recorded in the town books, as follows: "District the first" to begin at Anson Soule's, thence over Swan Pond hill to Edmund Irish and Richard Young. District No. 2, beginning at John Bartlett's, thence running on the town road to Freeman Ellis' and to include Holmes (?), John Griffeth and the Russells. District No. 3, beginning at Andrew Cushman's and extending to Richard Hinds and to Wm. Hayford, Jr. District No. 4, included Richard Dearborn, Beza Soule and the inhabitants on Ames' Hill.

The sum of $60 was raised for the support of schools. This was placed in the hands of the committee whose duty it was to lay out the districts as recorded above, the committee consisting of John Pumpilly, John Elwell, and Gustavus Hayford. School agents were chosen for the several districts as follows; John Elwell, District No. 1; John Griffith, District No. 2; Wm. Hayford, District No. 3; and Sampson Reed, Dist. No. 4.

Of the instructors employed in the early schools in Hartford and during succeeding years Wm. Bicknell was perhaps the best known in the town. His home was on the Daniel Briggs farm, where the mineral spring is located. He was a successful "school master," author, and school superintendent; and was a man much looked up to in those days. He was born in 1804, in the town of Turner, but spent most of his life here. John Larrabee was another early master, under whose tuition James Irish sat. He was an excellent penman and systematic in his methods. He was employed as town clerk for many years. Another school teacher who has a record seldom excelled, is Laura F., the daughter of John Jenne, of Peru, now Mrs. James Irish. Between 1869 and 1900, she taught eighty-two schools, covering every district from East Sumner to Rumford Falls.

When the district system was in force, there were fourteen complete and two joint districts in this town; this number has now decreased to eight districts, viz.: Line, Center, Tyler's Cor., Union, Town Farm, Whiting, Mountain and Glover. None of these schools are graded. A local High school has been maintained in town, but High school students are now generally sent to Hebron Academy or to Leavitt Institute, their tuition being paid by the town.

We would mention here, in connection with education, and to close this brief account, the fine library and chapel of Rev. Lucien Robinson, at his summer residence on the old homestead of his grandfather, about a mile and a half from the Center. Here he has an up-to-date library of 6000 volumes, of which he leaves a choice selection at the postoffice for those of the townspeople upon the payment of two cents per book to the postmaster who is librarian. It is said the library and building are to be devoted to Hartford and Sumner, together with a fund for its maintainance, by Mr.

Robinson, who is a tutor in Philadelphia and a clergyman. The name he has selected for the valuable educational institution which his townsmen must highly appreciate, is the East and West Butterfield Public Library, chosen in memory of the sister plantations in whose development his family has played so prominent a part.

DELAYED DATA

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, MEXICO.

The Baptist church was organized at Mexico with thirteen members, on May 29, 1903, Rev. J. D. Graham was installed pastor at that time and remained with the church until Sept. 19. He was succeeded by the present pastor, Rev. Albert G. Warner, in October. The membership of this society has increased to twenty at the present time. Services are held at the church at Mexico Corner, and a successful Sunday School maintained.

We regret that we are unable to give accounts of the METHODIST CHURCH OF HARTFORD and the FREE BAPTIST CHURCH at WEST PERU. We have tried to obtain the necessary information but have been unable to do so.

Census-1905

The population of the Towns of Mexico, Peru and Hartford has been arranged in families where that arrangement has been possible. In these families, in addition to the resident living members, the names of the non-resident members are included. It should be borne in mind that this plan does not include the names of all former residents of this town, as the names of the non-residents appear only when one or both of the parents are still living in the town. After the name of each non-resident will be found the present address, when such address has been given to us. Non-residents are indicated by the (*).

When a daughter in a family has married, her name taken in marriage appears after her given name in parenthesis, the name preceded by a small m, thus: (m).

Following the names of the population is the occupations. To designate these we have used the more common abbreviations and contractions, as follows: Farmer—far; carpenter—car; railroad service—R R ser; student, a member of an advanced institution of learning—stu; pupil, a member of a lower grade of schools (including all who have reached the age of five years)—pl; housework—ho; laborer—lab; physician and surgeon—phy & sur; clergyman—clerg; merchant—mer; teacher—tr; blacksmith—blk; clerk—cl; bookkeeper—bk kpr; lawyer—law; mechanic—mech; machinist—mach; engineer—eng; maker—mkr; worker—wkr; work—wk; shoe shop work—shoe op; cotton or woolen mill operatives—mill op; weaver—weav; spinner—spin; electrician—elec; painter—pt̆r; carriage work—car wk; dress maker—dr mkr; insurance—ins; traveling salesman, or commercial traveler—sales, or coml trav; music teacher—mus tr; teamster—team; general work—genl wk; mariner—mar; employ—emp; retired retd; fisherman—fisher; quarryman—quarry; contractor and builder—cont and bld; lumberman—lumb; factory work—fact wk; retired sea captain—rtd sea capt, or ex-sea capt; foreman—fore; fireman—fire.

This Census was taken expressly for this work during the Summer of 1905, by B. V. Davis, of Kent's Hill, Me.

CENSUS OF MEXICO

NOTE.—Where address is not given MEXICO Post Office is understood. The following abbreviations designate other addresses of people living in Mexico: Dixfield—Dix; Rumford Falls—R Falls; Ridlonville—Rid. Frye and Hale are also Post Offices in the town of Mexico.
